

WYNRIGHT TODAY

SEPTEMBER 21, 2011

Innovation is the name of the game.

You're looking for new ways to improve your productivity, increase ROI, meet your numbers -- and Wynright can help.

By helping you reconfigure your material handling system. Showing you how to use your space more efficiently. And ultimately delivering a distribution operation that's not just leaner and meaner; it's better, faster, smarter. It's called intelligent intralogistics, and it's what Wynright does.

With more than 200 dedicated engineers, integrators and project managers in-house -- each with a deep knowledge of distribution operations across virtually every industry -- Wynright brings to the table the best and the brightest minds to tackle complex supply chain challenges and develop solutions that leverage the power of innovation. controls. Advanced robotics. AutoRoll(tm) motor driven roller conveyor. And voice- and light-directed technologies.

If you're attending PACK EXPO next week, come talk to Wynright's team at Booth #C3438 -- look for the robotic truck loader. -- and find out how we can help you reach your goals.

New ad campaign to highlight design, engineering and integration expertise.

As Wynright looks toward marking its 40th year in business next year, we are launching a series of ads that showcase our capabilities and track record of helping some of the world's largest companies create an enhanced operation -- and build a better bottom line. Look for the ads to begin appearing later this year.
